

Please just make it this easy to recycle.

Dear Customer Service Manager:

I've noticed that this store does not have a program that lets me drop off my old electronics for recycling. But I have also noticed that other stores, like Best Buy and Staples, are doing this for their customers.

You are selling us thousands of electronic products every week. Don't you think you should help us recycle by taking back the same kinds of products you sell, here at the store? (Not just phones and tablets. Everything!) That's the kind of store I would feel better about patronizing.

We all need to do our part! I'll do my part - I will bring in my old stuff for recycling, instead of throwing it in the trash. Will you please ask the store manager to consider starting a recycling program at this store?

I am a customer, and I'll be watching for an announcement from you soon about a new recycling program. Thanks!
