

Electronics Retailers Recycling Report Card for: Newegg

Newegg has no recycling program for used electronics.

Grading Criteria	Max Points	Points Earned	Comments
1. ELECTRONICS RECYCLING PROGRAM
1.1. Does the retailer have an ongoing year-round program to take back and recycle electronic products from consumers? (as opposed to occasional events or a trade in program)	1	0	Newegg has no recycling program. They used to have a trade in program with Gazelle, but it's expired.
1.2. Do they take back for recycling all the same product categories that they sell?	3	0	No recycling program
1.3. Do they offer physical collection sites (in stores or other locations) where they collect all of the large electronic items (categories other than phones and tablets) that they sell?	5	0	No recycling program
1.4. Do they have collection sites for e-waste recycling in every state they sell into?	5	0	No recycling program
1.5. Is recycling free at the time of drop off?	3	0	No recycling program
1.6. Secret programs - Is the recycling program a secret? No info on websites or in stores? This earns a deduction.	-10
Total this section	17	0
TRANSPARENCY on volumes
2. TRANSPARENCY. Does the retailer publicly report on their takeback program every year, on their website, including:
2.1. Total volume of equipment collected?	1	0	No recycling program
2.2. How much equipment was refurbished and reused? (This can include trade in programs.)	1	0	No recycling program
2.3. How much equipment was recycled?	1	0	No recycling program
2.4. How much ink and toner was recycled (if they sell printers)	1	0	No recycling program
2.5. Total volume collected as a percentage of the total volume the retailer sold.	5	0	No recycling program
2.6. Breakdown of specific materials ultimately recovered during recycling, including critical minerals, if any	1	0	No recycling program
Total this section	10 pts	0
3. HOW MUCH IS COMING BACK?
3.1. How much total electronic equipment did the retailer take back in 2012 in the U.S. for recycling and reuse?	5	0	No recycling program
3.2. How much equipment was refurbished and	4	0	No recycling program

Grading Criteria	Max Points	Points Earned	Comments
reused?
3.3. How much equipment was recycled?	4	0	No recycling program
3.4. How much toner and ink recycled (if they sell toner/ink)?	4	0	No recycling program
Total this section	17 pts	0
RESPONSIBLE RECYCLING
4. Responsible Recycling We want to be sure that reuse and recycling is done responsibly, and that toxic e-waste isn't sent to developing companies where it can cause harm.
4.1. Public Export Policy. Does retailer have a formal public policy (on website) for their recycling and trade-in programs that says that:
4.1.1. All products or parts must be tested and found to be fully functional before being exported from the U.S. to developing countries	3	0
4.1.2. All hazardous materials ⁱ and components generated by downstream refurbishers and recyclers must be kept in developed countries throughout final disposition
4.2. Transparency. Does company publicly disclose all their recycling and reuse vendors for their recycling and trade in programs?	3	0
4.3. E-Steward Certification. 4.3.1. Are all of the company's recycling and reuse vendors handling electronics returned in the U.S. certified to the highest voluntary standard in the industry, the e-Stewards Standard for Responsible Recycling and Reuse of Electronic Equipment [®]	Max 10	0
4.3.2. Future certification. If the answer to 4.3.1 above is "no," has the company signed a pledge that by [future date], all of their takeback and trade-in programs in the U.S. will work only with reuse and recycling vendors who are certified e-Stewards? All electronics returned in the U.S. will go only to certified e-Stewards for reuse, repair, or recycling.
Total this section	16	0
TOTAL	60	0

ⁱ Hazardous materials as defined under International Law, established by the Basel Convention, not the very narrow definition that the US EPA uses.